

Jenny I read your article - "it was short but the language was strong and clear." You didn't provide any suggestions on how to overcome this situating. We all know about the problem but no one offers tips on how to deal with them or rather how to improve the situation. I hope you will put some thoughts on it and provide some nice tips to all the girls going through the terrible pain. You are a good writer so please carry on.

freehappysoul@hotmail.com