

Nondini Hussain Editor, Satrong

I have been sending my writings to Satrong for quite a long time and happy that you have been placing those in your web site. I am really thankful to you. I don't know if any visitor appreciates those. Can anything be done so that the writers can know the comments of the visitors ?? With deep interest I read all writings placed in the site, specially yours. I must admit that your writing has a different angle to look at the topics. Surely you are giving maximum efforts to make the site a success. I appreciate your views and glad to learn a lot from the articles. I would be thankful if you let me know your comments on my writings, which will help improvement of my writings.

Thanking you, Md. Abdus Salam
