

13.03.2006

Dear Nondini Hussain,

COMMENTS ON JENNY'S ARTICLE HILLA MARRIAGE

I happened to read the article of Jenny Chowdhury on Hilla Marriage in your web page. Every time I find her article anywhere, I go through with keen interest. She is really a genius. I wonder how she can understand so clearly all the problems a girl may face in this cruel world and write about it in so sympathetic way. She surely has a very soft heart for all the oppressed and tortured women in the world. The nature of torture she writes about are physical as well as mental. A girl can be humiliated in many a various manners, some are brutal, some are heart-breaking. Jenny's pen is equally sharp in narrating both types of torture. The Hilla Marriage she described is really a heinous type of torture inflicted upon helpless women, when she faces the irony of fate being divorced by the husband for any reason, be trifle in nature. Jenny has very elaborately brought out the inner pain of the wretched women. We all should come forward to eradicate this crime from the society. I wish her all success and pray that she never stop writing on these topics.

Md. Abdus Salam